GIRL WENT UNDER ASSUMED NAME

Mysterious Character Proved to be Miss Mabel C. Higgins, Who Appeared Against Daubenspeck.

WORKED FOR HER OWN CAUSE

Squire Kratzer Gave His Decision
Last Night, Placing Charged
Man Under $1000 Bond.

The woman detective, whom it was said was working in Rushville with Glenwood as her prospective prey, has been discovered. The young woman turned out to be none other than Miss Mabel C. Higgins, an inmate of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home, who was the prosecuting witness in the paternity charge against Sheridan Daubenspeck which was tried yesterday in Squire Kratzer's court.

Miss Higgins, alias Miss Dorothy Longworth, came here about fifteen days ago and rented a room at a boarding house. She seemed much interested in the town of Glenwood and led the boarders and other people who came in contact with her, to believe that she was a detective working on a blind tiger case. It is now supposed that she was working on her own case against Daubenspeck,
as he lives near Glenwood.

The affair had an air of mystery about it and was made more so when she suddenly left her boarding house,
saying she had received an anonymous letter, threatening her life if she remained in this city. Whether or not Miss Higgins did receive such a letter could not be learned for certain, but the girl did get a letter according to the boarding house people.

Squire Kratzer bound Daubenspeck
over to the circuit court late last evening and placed his bond at $1000.

COUNTY TREASURER WILL PAY STATE

Final Settlement Will be Made Friday
When Large Sum of Money
Will Change Hands.

TOTAL AMOUNTS TO $36,055.78

County Treasurer Alvan Moor will go to Indianapolis Friday to make his final settlement with the State treasurer. The law requires Mr.
Moor to pay the State before the thirty-first of this month or be fined ten per cent of the total due to the State from the county.

Rush county this year will pay to the State $36,055.78. This figure does not mean much to the ordinary person but when compared with other counties it becomes interesting. Fayette county will pay $20,318.74 or $15,737.04 less than Rush.

Mr. Moor will also pay to the city treasurer a large sum of money, but the exact amount is not known.

THE WEATHER

Unsettled weather with rain or snow in north and rain in south portion tonight or Thursday. Colder tonight.

bers of the Organization.

The members of Kappa Alpha Phi of this city banqueted at the Windsor hotel last night in honor of five new members and the members who are away attending college, who are here to spend the holidays. At seven-thirty twenty young men of this city sat down in the main dining room of hotel, where an excellent banquet was served. The five new members of the fraternity, who were honored with the affair, are George Hogsett, Edward Frazee, Cullen Sexton, Donald Alexander and Gale Spivey.

LOCAL LUMBERMEN WILL BE PRESENT

Will be Held in Indianapolis
January 11 and 12.

GOOD SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM

Several local lumber dealers are planning to attend the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Retail Lumber Dealers' Association of Indiana, which will be held at the Clay-and 12, 1911.

Among the speakers will be George L. Maas of Indianapolis, who will tail Lumber Yard;" M. A. Baker of Indianapolis who will speak on "Mill

burg, Pa., secretary of the National Builders' Supply Association; C. W.
Hamer of Greentown who will tell tel of Canton, Ohio, vice president of the Retail Lumber Association of Ohio; E. E. Hartwick of Detroit, Mich., president of the Michigan association and other prominent speakers.

The Hoo Hoos, an organization of lumber dealers, will give what they call a "concatenation" in the palm-room of the Claypool hotel Wednesday afternoon, during the convention.
On the evening of the same day, the Central Association of Lumber, Sash and Door Traveling Salesmen, the Indianapolis retailers, lumber whole-salers and the association will enjoy a theater party.

RUSHVILLE BOY FOUND DRUNK

Youth Giving His Name as Jones, is Picked up by Connersville Policeman.

WAS LECTURED BY THE MAYOR

A young man giving his name as Jones and his place of residence as Rushville was found lying in the alley between Fifth and Sixth streets by the police, in a beastly state of intoxication Saturday night, says the Connersville News. He said he had come from Rushville with a friend,
but that the friend deserted him after he became intoxicated. He was lying on his face when the police found him and as the night was very cold
he would probably have frozen in a short time had the officers not run across him. Although no charge was placed against him he was taken before the mayor and given a good lecture.

WILL DISSOLVE PARTNERSHIP

Mulno and Guffin Will Separate in Business on Feb. 1—Will G.
Mulno to Continue the Store.

BEEN TOGETHER 11 YEARS

Lincoln Guffin Will Open a Dry Goods
Store in Carmichael Building
in Main Street.

The firm of Mulno and Guffin,
which is the style of one of Rushville's leading clothing stores will be known on and after February the first as William G. Mulno, Clothier.
Mr. Mulno and Lincoln Guffin will dissolve partnership on that date, the senior member of the firm continuing the business and the junior member will enter into a dry goods and ready made garment business. The dissolution brings to a close a partnership which has been widely advertised
and one which has become well known throughout the community.

Mr. Mulno, the senior member of the present firm, was in the employ of Bliss and Cowing for a number of years before he went into business for himself. Twelve years ago he went into a firm styled Mulno and Michelsen, and then a year later Lincoln Guffin bought out Mr. Michelsen.
From that time on the firm of Mulno and Guffin have done business at their present home in West Second street, and have had in their employ throughout the entire period Ferd Retherford. Mr. Retherford will remain with Mr. Mulno as he continues the business.

Lincoln Guffin, with the co-operation of Miss Laura Trusler, will open a dry goods store in J. B. Winship's room, which is generally known as the Carmichael room in North Main street, on or about March the first.
Mr. Guffin and Miss Trusler will feature women's ready made apparel.
Mr. Winship is going to make some extensive repairs on the business block and make it modern in every way.

UNIFORM SYSTEM OF BOOKKEEPING

Auditor's Office Has a New Set of Books Which Will be Put in Use
January 1.

PROVE MORE SATISFACTORY

Auditors' offices all over the State will on the first day of January adopt a uniform system of bookkeeping and open a new set of books. Those for the Rush county office have been on hands for some time and their use will start on the morning of the first day of 1911. The new system is expected to be much more satisfactory than that which has been in use for years.

County Auditor Stone states that with the new books in use it will be impossible to pay any claims against the county before the second Monday in each month. The commissioners meet the first Monday and as there is quite a lot of work in preparing the new warrants claims can not be settled until a week has elapsed. Consequently those who have bills against the county need not expect to get their money before the second Monday of the month.

AMATEUR BROKE OPEN SMALL SAFE

Shelbyville Boy of 10 Years, Charged With Petit Larceny and Will Appear Before Judge Blair.

HIS FIRST JUVENILE CASE

Boy's Brother Also in on Charge—
Can't Keep Their Hands Off
Other Peoples' Property.

When court convened this morning,
Judge Blair will have a case in juvenile court, at which time James Murphy, aged ten years, will be before him for petit larceny, says the Shelbyville Republican. The charge against the boy was brought by John Luhn of West Franklin street, employed at the Davis-Birely factory.

When Mr. Luhn returned from his work about six o'clock Friday night, he discovered that his home had been entered and a bank belonging to his son had been broken up and the contents removed. A side window had been pried open and entrance to the dwelling was made through the window. An investigation was made and from information gathered, it is thought that James Murphy and his little eight year old brother, Earl, committed the theft. Mr. Luhn then made his way to the office of Prosecutor John Cheney, where an affidavit was made out against the eldest of the two, charging him with petit larceny, and the boy's father was notified to have the boy in court Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

It seems that the lads can not keep their hands off things not their own property. Reports are to the effect that they have been stealing eggs from a number of people residing in West Franklin street and they have been disposing of them at the Webber grocery store. The boys claimed that they had obtained the eggs at their home. When questioned closely they admitted that they stole them
from different henneries in the west end of town.

A small wagon was taken at the home of Mrs. Rachel Amsden recently and it was found at the Murphy home. Damage was done in the Abe Russell barn some time ago to the amount of $100 and this is also laid at the door of the two lads. They are the sons of Alonzo Murphy. The school authorities claim that they can not keep the lads in school.

BANNER YEAR FOR RED CROSS SEALS

Every Indication Points That the Tri Kappas Will Break Last Year's Record.

TO KNOW AMOUNT NEXT WEEK

The total amount of the sales from the Red Cross Seals in this city will not be known until some time next week. The sale of the seals will continue this week and up until New Year's day. From all indications it is expected that the Tri Kappas have more money this year than last.
More seals were sold this year at the postoffice than any previous year and the girls worked hard to make the sale a success.

Mrs. Taylor Lakin is ill with lagrippe at her home in North Morgan street.

SEVERAL FROM HERE ATTEND

Glenwood Gun Club Held Shoot This Afternoon.

The Glenwood Gun club held their regular shoot this afternoon. Several from here attended and they expected to land the prize offered by the club, which was a large turkey.
With a prize as a special inducement
it was expected that a large crowd would be present.

ASSESSORS WILL MEET NEXT WEEK

Annual Session Will be Held in Indianapolis—Governor Marshall on The Program.

MEETING WILL LAST 3 DAYS

County assessors of the State will hold their annual meeting in Indianapolis on January 2, 3 and 4 in the State house. Fred L. Gemmer, of the State board of tax commissioners, who has charge of the program for the annual meeting has announced
the following speakers thus far:
Governor Marshall, John W. Kern,
William T. Murray, assessor of Fayette county; Frank R. Hiatt, assessor of Sullivan county; W. H.
O'Brien, auditor of state, and L. G.
Ellingham, secretary of state, the last two being ex-officio members of the tax commission.

Since the assessment of real estate
is to be made next year, land values will occupy a prominent part in the discussion of the meeting. Approximately one-half of the county assessors who attend the meeting are new officials, elected in November of this year.

DIVORCE GRANTED MRS. THORNBURG

Judge Blair Granted Divorce Yesterday and $2000 Was Compromised
on as Alimony.

IT WAS HEARD "IN CHAMBER"

In the divorce case of Adah Florence Thornburg versus Charles C.
Thornburg, which was heard "in chamber" yesterday by Judge Alonzo Blair, a divorce was granted the plaintiff and $2000 was compromised on as alimony. The case was venued to the Rush circuit court from the Hancock circuit court. Mrs. Thornburg originally asked for $5000 alimony. There were forty or fifty witnesses here from Greenfield, the home of the plaintiff and defendant, to testify in the case. Omer S. Jackson and Jackson and Sample were attorneys for the plaintiff; and Wm.
A. Hough and Cook and Cook were attorneys for the defendant.

of the city schools will attend the

tor of the National Road Travelers,

BOOKLET BEING SENT OUT NOW

Publication Outlining the Growth and Progress of East Hill Cemetery
Association Being Distributed

IS EXCEEDINGLY INTERESTING

Gives Articles of the Association, By-Laws, Historical Sketch and Other Valuable Information.

The East Hill Cemetery company has started distribution of a booklet,
which is a new idea and which contains much valuable information concerning the project. The book was gotten out through much expense and labor and is unique in many ways. It contains the articles and by-laws of the association, rules for government of the cemetery grounds, names of owners of lots, and a very interesting historical sketch of the movement.

In the historical sketch, it relates that in June, 1859, a meeting was called at the court house to consider the establishment of a new cemetery to replace the Upper and Lower graveyards of the rapidly growing hamlet. A committee on selection of grounds, composed of Dr. Jefferson Helm, Daniel Wilson, George Hibben, Claiborn S. Donaldson, Joseph Win-ship and Joel Wolfe, was selected at this meeting as well as one on organization, which was composed of P. A.
Hackleman, Leonidas Sexton and John Carmichael. At a second meeting held the same month, the appointed committees reported and the association was formed.

From June on until September of 1860, rapid progress was made with the project and on September twenty-fifth, 1860, East Hill cemetery was dedicated to the burial of the dead
with fitting and appropriate ceremonies.

The movement has made steady progress from that time to this, and today we find East Hill cemetery one of the finest and most suitable burial grounds in the State. It has been said that the decoration of a rural cemetery should exhibit in its classical purity a just medium between too great simplicity and the excessive ornament usually met with; and East Hill cemetery has been brought by means of much labor, expense, and thought to that happy medium between simplicity and ornamentation.

The booklet, which is now being sent out, not only outlines the entire progress of the association, but gives the rules for improvement of lots,
schedule of prices for vaults, etc.,
secretary's report, and a statement of the financial condition of the organization. The authors and promoters of the booklet deserve much praise for this interesting and useful work.

NO MORE GRAPEVINES.

The Indiana daily newspaper association has started a movement for the prosecution of persons who knowingly and willingly give misin-formation to newspapers. The legislative committee of the association was instructed to draw a bill to be presented to the next legislature prescribing a penalty for persons who mislead newspapers for their own selfish ends. The committee will draft the bill at an early date and when the legislature convenes urge its passage at Indianapolis. The object of this step is to severely punish persons who knowingly give incorrect news to newspapers, and severe penalties will be provided.

ZULU SAYS HE IS LADYSMITH HERO

BULLER GIVEN LITTLE CREDIT

Chief Malinga After a Dozen Years of Silence Demands Reward He Claims
"Ferryman of the Tugela" Promised Him—Has Been In Jail or Would Have Spoken Sooner.

It was only on the sixth attempt, as every one knows, that the late General Sir Redvers Buller succeeded in relieving Ladysmith during the last Boer war. But, if a story which has just come to hand after these twelve years be substantiated, Ladysmith might have fallen eventually into the hands of the Boers had it not been for the strategy of a Zulu chief who at the last moment came to the relief of the harassed British general.

The story, which comes from Durban, is to the effect that the Zulu chief Malinga is claiming through the court a reward of $200 and eighty head of cattle for the services rendered on the occasion referred to.

Claims Credit For Victory.

Malinga declares that it was through him that the final attack on the Boers at Tugela heights proved successful, he having originated the plan of operations after five previous efforts had been made without success.

The Natal Mercury, which chronicles the details of Malinga's claim, offers no opinion on its merits, but states that many of the points of the chief's story coincide with what actually occurred.

Briefly, Malinga says that during the siege of Ladysmith he was practicing in the district as a medicine man. He had commanded an impi of warriors during the Zulu war, and when the natives were called together by General Buller he was asked if he could still handle an impi.

Buller Crosses Ocean.

To this Malinga replied that what he had done before he could do again, and he was thereupon invited to assist General Buller's forces, being promised the reward he now claimed if he was successful. The Boers at that time occupied a position on the Makala hill, and the adoption of Malinga's plan of attack ended in their complete rout.

After the relief of Ladysmith Malinga returned to Nkandha, to learn that General Buller had "crossed the seas." Having been later thrown into prison for his part in a native rebellion, he had been unable to make his claim for the promised reward until now.

Drank Muriatic Acid.

Newport, Ky., Dec. 28.—Richard Riedel, fifty-five years old, a cigar roller, drank two ounces of pure muriatic acid and died. Riedel was despondent because he was out of work. His son is a tinner and kept the acid on hand for use in his work. The father secured the bottle and drained its contents.

MOTORS REVIVE SANTA FE TRAIL

Kansas Starts Boulevard That Can't Be Stopped.

MAY CROSS THE CONTINENT.

Fifteen Hundred Miles of Auto Highway to Succeed Historic Road Famed
For Its Bullwhackers and Cattle Herds—East May Rehabilitate National Pike and Join Movement.

There still live in the west men who knew the old Santa Fe trail in the days of its glory, when mile long wagon trains dragged slowly over hill and plain. The prairie schooner of that day has given way to the motor-car of this, the bullwhacker has become a chauffeur, and the old trail has become the new—the new Santa Fe trail—a motor speedway from the bank of the Father of Waters to the plaza of Santa Fe. Over the old trail these pioneers and their sons are spreading a boulevard fifteen hundred miles long. It is not merely a project, this new Santa Fe trail. It is a solid actuality which four states are pushing to completion, with Kansas and Colorado well in advance. The new Santa Fe trail is practically finished between Hutchinson, Kan., and Canon City, Colo., at which latter place one branch ends. It is being pushed south from La Junta to Santa Fe and east from Hutchinson to Kansas City and St. Louis.

Founded in sentiment, the real incentive behind the new Santa Fe trail was the big touring car. What the preaching of twenty years had failed to accomplish the motorcar accomplished in one—the conversion of the Kansas farmer to good roads.

The idea of the new Santa Fe trail originated with C. H. Scott, editor of the Hutchinson (Kan.) News. He made a plan of campaign with R. H. Faxon of the Garden City Telegram for carrying out the idea. They first called their project the Arkansas valley speedway and later the new Santa Fe trail.

Kansas and Colorado Join.
The idea was taken up with enthusiasm, and in a few months the road practically was completed from Garden City to the Colorado state line. Colorado took up the speedway, and the counties along the old trail pushed the new road through to Pueblo. There it was connected with the fine road that led westward up the valley of the Arkansas river to Canon City, ending at the Skelly drive, one of the most magnificent mountain roads in the world, skirting the edge of the Royal gorge, through which the river flows a thousand feet below.

Work was begun almost immediately on several stretches of the road, and by spring the whole length of it was completed. Nearly every farmer along the way contributed time to the work and lent a team or two, and when the cost was figured up it was found that it had cost the counties less than $50 a mile. For that insignificant amount was built a natural speedway from Hutchinson west to the Colorado line thirty feet wide and as smooth and springy as a wooden block pavement and made of nothing but common dirt.

Movement Grows Rapidly.

Then the towns east of Hutchinson asked, if it was to be a new Santa Fe trail, why didn't it take in the whole length of the old trail? Was there any reason why the new trail shouldn't follow the old trail to this, that or the next town? There wasn't. So the towns east of Hutchinson joined in a convention a few weeks ago at Emporia, and it was decided to swallow the whole morsel and build the new trail on to Kansas City.

"But," said Kansas City, "if you are willing to stretch a point you can even say it started at St. Louis, because there La Lande began his historic journey over the old Boon's Lick road to old Franklin. Besides, Missouri has already planned a fine cross state highway over that route between St. Louis and Kansas City."

There being no objection, Kansas City just hooked up both ends and planned what will be within a few years the longest continuous road on the American continent—1,500 miles of almost every variety of landscape to be found in these broad United States. "Why," Kansas and Missouri and Colorado and New Mexico are asking— "why don't the people on the other side of the Mississippi make up and hitch their old national pike on to the new Santa Fe trail and run it back to Philadelphia or New York or Boston while we shove the other end out to the Pacific?"

KANSAS BOOMING WHISKERS.

Price of Shaving Advances to Fifteen Cents.

The high cost of living has become more pronounced in northeastern Kansas, as the price of a shave has been raised in many of the cities in that part of the state. The barbers of Hlawatha, Holton, Horton and Marysville have raised the price of operations on whiskers from 10 to 15 cents, and the barbers in Atchison made that increase several months ago.

Cape of Good Hope.
The Cape of Good Hope lies at a considerable distance from the end of South Africa and is, in fact, the middle of the three promontories, severally inconspicuous, which jointly terminate a slender peninsula, some twenty miles in length, forming the barrier between False bay and the Atlantic ocean on the west. These three headlands, lying near together and commonly undivided on a map of moderate scale, are locally designated Cape Point. It was here that Bartholomew Diaz first encountered in full force the prevalent southeasterly gales and denounced the rugged, threatening, threefold promontory under the sounding appellation of the Cape of Storms, to be afterward rechristened by pious, trustful hearts the Cape of Good Hope.

ARTIFICIAL CAMPHOR MADE.

Turpentine Oils Furnish Components
of New Imitation.

There is in operation in New York state an artificial camphor factory, the product of which is intended to compete in the market with the natural substance. It is maintained that it does not differ except in the manner of its origin from that extracted from the camphor trees of Formosa.

Artificial camphor is made from essential oils derived from turpentine. Chemically the only difference between turpentine and camphor is the possession by each molecule of the latter of one atom of oxygen which is lacking in the former. By chemical process the needed oxygen is supplied. Three-fourths of the entire supply of camphor is used in the arts and one-fourth in medicine.

HAIR REMEDY

Grew a Full Growth of Hair on a Bald Head

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

BELVA LOCKWOOD

EXTORTION CHARGED IN AN INDIAN CASE

Mrs. Belva Lockwood, Woman Lawyer, the Defendant.

Dalton, Ga., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood, the woman attorney, of Washington, and one time candidate for president of the United States, has been sued here for $10,000 damages by James B. Brackett, a prominent citizen of Dalton. Brackett accused Mrs. Lockwood of maliciously having him arrested in an attempt to extort money. The case grew out of a government settlement of the claims of the descendants of the eastern Cherokee Indians. Brackett's family received something over $4,000 of this money, and Mrs. Lockwood demanded 10 per cent of this, which Brackett refused on the ground that he had not employed her. When Brackett received the money Mrs. Lockwood had him arrested charging larceny after trust. When the case was heard the charge against Brackett was dismissed and Mrs. Lockwood was rebuked by the court.

REDUCTION BILL COULD NOT PASS

Hence There Will Be No Diminution of Representation.

A POLL OF THE CONGRESSMEN

Has Revealed That an Apportionment Bill That Would Reduce the Representation of Any of the States That Has Declined in Population Cannot Be Passed—Bill Will Provide For at Least 430 Members.

Washington, Dec. 28.—The apportionment bill to be reported after the holidays will be so drawn, it is now practically assured, as to insure to each of the states that have fallen off in population a continuance of its present representation in the house. A canvass of the membership disclosed that an apportionment bill that would reduce the representation of any of the states that has declined in population cannot be passed. The states affected are represented by more than 100 members, among them Ohio, Maine, Indiana, Kentucky, Virginia and the Carolinas. After a review of the situation the leaders have come to the conclusion that if an apportionment bill is to be passed at this time it must provide for a house of approximately 430 members.

In this connection a proposal has been made that will have serious consideration. It is that the apportionment act shall contain a provision authorizing the secretary of commerce and labor, who is the immediate superior of the director of the census, to carry out the work of apportionment in the future under fixed rates to be prescribed by congress. This plan was in operation for twenty years, beginning in 1850, when the secretary of the interior, under whose direction census work was done at that time, was charged with the duty of making apportionments. The theory of this plan is that to some extent it removes the apportionment from the sphere of politics and may prove an obstacle to further arrangement of the house when the time comes to make another apportionment ten years hence.

Chairman Crumpacker of the house committee on census says that the committee intends to report an apportionment bill soon after congress meets in January. Whether the measure will be passed at this session is problematical.

CRUCIAL BATTLE

City of Mexico, Dec. 28.—The minister of war says that a battle is now progressing at Mal Paso. The government troops are attacking the rebels from both sides, the troops under Colonel Cuellar advancing from Chihuahua, engaging them from one side, while General Navarro, from Pederiales, is attacking them from the other direction. The minister of war admitted that the rebels are strongly entrenched, but said there was no doubt of the outcome, the government being bound to win.

GEORGE B. COX

Whose Political Organization Is Being Subjected to Scrutiny.

COX ORGANIZATION FACING AN ORDEAL

Cincinnati Case Developing Sensational Features.

Cincinnati, Dec. 28.—It has been openly charged in the course of the session of the investigation instituted by the defeated Democratic candidates to unseat the ten successful Republican candidates for the state legislature that Boss Cox's Republican county organization was striving hard to manipulate the proceedings and to influence the witnesses for the Democrats.

Attorney Edward Tepe, one of the contestants, declared at the hearing that the Cox people were bringing all their forces to work against the probe. "They have sent men to the detective agency to get employment as detectives," said Tepe. "They have also sent other men there to make false oath that they had been bribed, so that later on the stand they could make denial of the truth of the affidavit and discredit the contestants." It was intimated that some such influence had been brought to bear on Witness Charles A. Steiner, a roomer in a cheap lodging house, whose affidavit the day before stated that he and fifty lodgers at the same place had been given $1 each to vote the Republican ticket. Steiner, later on the stand, denied that he had signed any such affidavit, and said that the money was given to him to buy a meal.

"What did you get for voting?" he was asked. "Nothing," he replied. "What did George Healy give you?" "He gave me $1 after I came back from the polls, and he said, 'Here's $1 for breakfast.' That's all he said."

"Do you usually pay $1 for breakfast?" asked Attorney Cohen. "No, I usually pay 10 cents," replied the man.

Healy is the proprietor of several cheap lodging houses.

Oil Strike Causes Excitement.

Carlyle, Ill., Dec. 28.—There is excitement over the showing of oil in the Murphy well, two miles northwest of this city. The oil sand was reached at a depth of 856 feet. The stratum of sand is fifteen feet thick. Every barrel brings up oil. The drill will be sent deeper, with the hope that a big producer will be brought in.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK SHOW BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD.

More Than 12,000 Animals Shown to 250,000 Visitors.

The 1910 international live stock exposition, held at Chicago, broke the world's records for the number of animals shown. There were 4,355 entries housed under the exposition roofs, consisting of 1,191 finely bred horses, 1,194 bred cattle, 1,163 sheep and 807 hogs.

Twenty different buildings were required to house these exhibits and in addition there were more than 8,000 fat cattle, sheep and swine exhibited in carload lots in the stockyard pens. It is estimated that 250,000 persons attended the show.

More than ordinary prominence was given the agricultural college exhibits, and students' judging competitions began almost with the opening of the show. The intercollegiate phase of judging, which at the shows held several years ago was looked upon by the practical farmer and stock breeder as a "newfangled experiment," is now generally approved.

The majority of the breeders whose animals carried off the ribbons have their sons at agricultural colleges or are patrons of those institutions.

"Yes. What about it? They're all paid for."

"Oh, I merely intended to sympathize with you."

"Did you suppose I couldn't afford to buy such jewelry as my son cared to wear?"

"No, that wasn't it. If you don't understand why a man whose son loads himself down with jewelry ought to be sympathized with it will be useless for me to do any explaining."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Many of us turn over a new leaf January 1, but it's the same old handwriting, the same hieroglyphics.

The National Grange votes 171 to 102 for dancing. Uncle Reuben's leg has been pulled so frequently that he has to shake it occasionally.

There is talk of coining half cents again. It would encourage many people to go to church and put up a firm front to the contribution box.

Another intervention in Cuba is threatened, as the kindergarten class in government seems about ready for its annual vacation.

The Chicago Record-Herald favors chaining up the dogs of war. Can't get 'em on the leash while there are these bones to pick in the way of fat contracts.

The reason why our congressmen can not work over the holidays may be that amid the surfittings of Washington they long for mother's cooking.

Woodrow Wilson is making a great fight on the senatorship, but the machine will go on turning the people's ballots into canned plums for the ring.

According to the census figures given, Indiana is pre-eminently a State of many small cities—cities well known for their industry and prosperity, showing excellent percentages in growth every decade.

Every Democratic legislator thus far interviewed concerning the probable acts of the general assembly responds with some answer as this: "Well, we shall repeal the county local option law, but beyond this I am unable to say." It would seem that the option law is the paramount issue.

Every town is infested with vicious gossips and no amount of lecturing, preaching or even "roasting" will cure the evil. The New Castle Courier says, "People will talk. To gossip is an inborn attribute of humanity. It would be useless to try to suppress the inclination. But, if every person would repeat a story just as he or she heard it, without drawing on the imagination for details, what a lot of worry and misery might be avoided."

Congressman Gray of the Sixth Indiana district has issued a long statement outlining his plans as a member of congress. The first term member of congress who succeeds in two years in getting the doorkeeper of the House to recognize him as an M. C., usually feels that he has been reasonably successful. However, if Congressman Gray doesn't succeed in getting measures mentioned in his pronouncements, he can come home and blame it on the speaker or the committee on rules.

When a person hears of the prices which farmers are receiving for their products, says the Greenfield Reporter, they are astonished, and even the farmers themselves are surprised at the difference between what a horse, cow, hog or sheep brings as compared with prices of twenty years ago. One thing which is likely to be overlooked in such comparisons is, the great improvement made in stock recently. All kinds of stock are much better from every standpoint than formerly. Any day that a person may make the rounds of the hitch-rack and livery stables in this city, he will be amazed at the high standard of horses, raised and used by farmers. The difference in price is largely a difference in quality of horses. That being the case the prices of horses under normal conditions will remain as they are now. This fact should stimulate, not only the raising of good horses, but the further development of the quality of horses.

LOCAL PHYSICIANS SUPPORT THE BILL

The Establishment of a Pasteur Institute by the State, is Looked Upon Favorably Here.

ONLY SURE CURE FOR RABIES

Several local physicians have indicated their intention to support a bill which will be introduced in the next general Assembly providing for the establishment of a Pasteur institute. The bill will be supported by the State Board of Health. The examinations at other laboratories have proved that 2 per cent of the microscopic tests for negri bodies, the germ of rabies, are wrong, and some physicians say a Pasteur institute is the only successful way of determining and combating rabies. The records of the Pasteur institute in Europe and America show that 9 per cent of the persons affected with rabies and so treated recover.

If a Pasteur institute is established in the State the rabies death rate could be reduced to a minimum, it is said.

WHY IS INDIANA?

A Hoosier does not admit that there is a better country on the face of the earth than his own native State. The sun shines brighter, the flowers bloom prettier, the land yields richer gifts, the air is just a little bit freer than any place else.

Time was when the Hoosier was a joke; he is today a leader wherever time and opportunity chance to find him. The Hoosier transplanted makes good. At home he shares the self-confident, persistent way he does abroad.

They are talking of Indiana's slow gain in population. The Hoosier admits it, and right there is the rub—when you catch a Hoosier in a pen, "when you tree him," there's going to be a fight. The Hoosier doesn't know defeat—he may die trying but he is no piker. He isn't a quitter. That Hoosier josh has helped him to overlook what may be said about him. He likes it and he looks for it. It helps him.

Indiana's population gain during the last decade was small. The State may lose a congressman—may even lose two congressmen, but wait. Why is Indiana? The next census is the answer.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH REPORT

Bulletin For November Shows on Increase of Sickness—Some Very Interesting Figures.

COMPARED WITH LAST YEAR

Death From Infantile Paralysis Show

14 More Than Preceding Month.

The bulletin of the State Board of Health just issued says: there was more sickness in November, 1910 than in the same month of the preceding year. Bronchitis was the most prevalent disease and tonsillitis second most prevalent. This was also true for November, 1910.

The following is the order of diseases prevalence: Bronchitis, tonsillitis, typhoid fever, diphtheria, membranous croup, rheumatism, scarlet fever, influenza, bronchial pneumonia, lobar pneumonia, pulmonary tuberculosis, diarrhoea, intermittent and remittent fever, malaris fever, measles, chickenpox, anterior poliomyelitis, whoopingcough, tuberculosis, other forms, inflammation of bowels, dysentery, erysipelas, cholera morbus, cerebro-spinal-meningitis, puerperal fever, cholera infantum, smallpox.

Infantile paralysis (anterior poliomyelitis) increased over the preceding month, 14 deaths reported from this disease. Benton 1, Bartholomew 1, Cass 2, Clinton 1, Fountain 1, Jefferson 2, Knox 1, Kosciusko 1, St. Joseph 1, White 1, Whitley 1. The area of prevalence was also extended.

Deaths numbered 2780, rate 12. Same month last year 2550, rate 11.3. Tuberculosis wrought its usual havoc, killing 296 persons. Typhoid caused 115 deaths, diphtheria 75, scarlet fever 19, measles 9, whooping cough 26, pneumonia 296, diarrhoeal disease 60, cerebro-spinal-meningitis 1, influenza 1, puerperal fever 12, cancer 145, violence 184. The cities show a death rate of 14.5, which is 2.5 higher than the rate for the whole State. Certain cities present the following death rates: Indianapolis 13.6; Evansville 16.4; Ft. Wayne 11.4; Terre Haute 18.1; South Bend 11.7; Muncie 13.2; Anderson 12.4; Marion 9.6.

October births: Total 4456, same month last year 4340. Of the births this month 2209 were males, 2113 females, 134 stillbirths. State rate 18.6. Highest rate Jackson county, 31.3; lowest, Ohio, 2.8; Jackson county led in births in September.

UNCLE SAM CLEANING UP.

(Munsey's Magazine.)

Within the last few weeks, Superintendent William H. Hotchkiss, of the New York Insurance Department, has held up seventeen insurance companies and their promoting agents, driving them out of the State or compelling them to modify their plans. Postmaster-General Frank H. Hitchcock, within a year, has caused the arrest of seventy-eight individuals, firms, "fiscal agents," and the like, for using the United States mails to defraud investors. With scarcely an exception, the men arrested carried out their swindling operations through methods of promotion so frequently denounced by this magazine, including the usual paraphernalia of alluring prospectuses, stock canvassers, and newspaper advertisements, entrapping the prospective victim of mendacious promises of huge profits.

While much still remains to be done in the way of protecting simple-minded folk from the stock-selling sharks more has been accomplished in this direction in recent months than in whole years past. Without question, the next step should be to bring the proprietors of newspapers and periodicals to an appreciation of their responsibilities in the matter.

CHAPTER XI.

The Aurora.

"I tell you sir, the thing is beyond human possibility. There is no help—no human help in the world. I would swear to that before God. But I think you must know it as well as I do." Captain Warner, standing upon the Aurora's bridge, was the speaker. The two Fanshaws, father and son, their faces gray with despair, turned away and looked over the great masses of loose, churning field-ice, which, filling the sea out to the utmost horizon, confirmed the captain's words.

"How long—" Tom Fanshaw began, then he paused, moistened his lips and rubbed them roughly with his hand—"How long," he repeated, "shall we have to wait before it opens up?"

"It won't open up again this season—not if I know anything about the arctic," said the captain.

"It will freeze, though," Mr. Fanshaw said, "freeze into a solid pack that we could cross afoot. How long shall we have to wait for that?"

"It's hard to tell. Generally in this latitude the pack is pretty solid by the first of September. But that warm current which caught Fielding's ship, which caught the Walrus—the current which makes, every summer apparently, that long gap of open water which enabled us to reach the land that Fielding reached—that current would keep loose field-ice floating about for at least another month."

Tom Fanshaw's eyes had almost the light of madness in them. "But she can't live a month!" he cried. "She's alone, unarmed! She has no food; no shelter but those bare huts!"

"The Walrus people doubtless left some stores there, if she could find them," said Captain Warner. "But, still, what you say is perfectly true. She can hardly hope to keep a live a week."

"Then," said Tom, in dull, passionate rebellion—"then, in some way or other, we must go back to her. If you won't go—if you won't take the Aurora back, I'll take one of the little boats and go myself!"

"If you want to commit suicide," said Captain Warner, "you could do it less painfully with a revolver. The small boat would not live 30 seconds after we put her over the side. You know that, if you are not mad. As for the Aurora herself, if she had not been built the way she is, she would have been crushed hours ago. And if I were to lower the propeller and start the engines, they would simply twist the screw off of her before she had gone a ship's length, and leave us helpless in the event of our ever finding open water. We may never live to find it, but there's a chance that we will. There are more than 30 lives that I am responsible for aboard this yacht, and I mean to live up to that responsibility. If we ever do find open water, then I'll do whatever you say. I will take you to Point Barrow and the yacht can winter there. Then when the pack is solid, if you can find dogs and sledges, you can attempt the journey across the ice. I don't believe it can be done. I don't believe there is a chance in a hundred that any single member of the party that set out would live to reach that shore. That, however, is not my affair."

"The Aurora's people, under the cool-headed command of Warner and the elder Fanshaw, had proceeded in a brisk, scientific, military style that had spared them many serious casualties. There were a number of flesh wounds when it was over, and one or two of a more serious nature. None of them had been killed.

The Walrus people, however, had not surrendered until their plight was wholly desperate. Only five of them were left alive, and two of these were mortally wounded when the struggle ceased.

The uninjured were heavily ironed and locked up in the steerage. All the wounded—friends and foes alike—were turned over to the care of the yacht's surgeon and a couple of volunteer assistants from among the crew.

Altogether, it was two or three hours after the Aurora's people had regained undisputed possession of the yacht before it was possible to form any definite idea of what had happened. In the excitement and the necessity of everybody doing two or three things at once, Tom Fanshaw and his serious plight were not discovered, until he himself, having partly regained consciousness, uttered a low moan for help, which was heard by a chance passerby.

The gale, which had been raging all this while, had gone screaming by unheeded, and it was not until dawn

AN EASY AND HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR.

Who does not know of the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, put up an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. It is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the manufacturers upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by Hargrove & Mullin.

that the horrified conquerors of the yacht discovered that there was no land in sight.

It was several hours after that, not, indeed, until the captain had worked out their reckoning from an observation, before they realized that they were 100 miles away from their anchorage of the previous evening, and that their return was hopeless.

Old Mr. Fanshaw gave his arm to his son, helped him down from the bridge and thence to the now deserted smoking room, forward. Tom submitted to be led blindly along, and did not demur when his father halted beside a big leather sofa and told him to lie down upon it. Since that momentary outburst of his upon the bridge, the young man had been unnaturally calm. His muscles, as he lay there now upon the sofa, seemed relaxed; his eyes were fixed, almost dull.

Through a long silence his father sat there watching him, but there was no dawn of a corresponding calmness in his face. It had aged whole years over night.

"It's strange to me," he said, "that we ever recovered possession of this yacht at all, let alone that we were able to recover it without it costing us the life of a single man. This gang must have had a leader, and a clever one. They way he maneuvered his men to keep them out of sight while he drew away first one party and then the other from the yacht was a piece of masterly strategy. He worked it out perfectly in every detail. He got possession of the yacht without losing a man, without even firing a shot that might give the alarm. And even with the warning we had and with the help of the fog, I don't see how we defeated a man like that. His success must have gone to his head and made him mad."

"He was probably killed in the first volley our people fired when they got aboard," said Tom dully. "He alone could have accounted for half a dozen of you, if he'd ever had a chance—a giant like that."

"A giant!"

"I think he must have been the leader," said Tom. "He was the first man to come aboard, certainly."

"But what makes you call him a giant?"

"Because he literally was. He struck me down with just one blow, and as he raised his arm to strike I saw that his shoulder-cap was above the level of my eyes; and I pass for a tall man."

His father abandoned the subject abruptly, and for a while contrived to talk of other things; of the details of the fight and how different members of the crew had borne themselves.

But his mind was filled with a new terror, and as soon as he could feel that his son was in condition to be left alone, he left him, with a broken word of excuse. He must either set this new terror at rest, or know the worst at once. There had been no one, either among the survivors or the slain of the Walrus party, who in any way resembled the monster Tom had described.

An hour later he went back to the bridge to talk again with Captain Warner. He thought that they had sounded the depth of despair that former time when they had talked together there, but in this last hour he had sounded a new abyss beneath it all. He knew now why the yacht had been so easily taken. He knew all the details of the devilish plan which had so nearly succeeded. More than that, he knew the story of the man Roscoe from the time when Captain Planck had taken him aboard the Walrus, down to the hour last night when he had sprung into his boat again and pulled shoreward. Captain Planck was dying, and old Mr. Fanshaw's questions had enabled him to enjoy the luxury of a full confession.

So they knew now, those two men who stood there on the bridge, white-lipped, talking over the horror of the thing—they knew that Jeanne was not alone upon that terrible frozen shore. The man Roscoe was there, too.

A sound on the deck below attracted Mr. Fanshaw's attention. Tom, with the aid of a heavy cane, was limping precariously along the deck toward the bridge ladder, and, to their amazement, when he looked up at them, they saw that somehow, his face had cleared. There was a grave look of peace upon it.

"I've thought of something," he said, after he had climbed up beside them—"I've thought of something that makes it seem possible to go on living, and even hoping."

The two older men exchanged a swift glance. He was not to know about Roscoe. If he had found something to hope for, no matter how illusory, he should be allowed to keep it—to hug it to his breast, in place of the horrible, torturing vision of the human monster which the other two men saw.

"What is it you've thought of, Tom?" his father asked unsteadily.

"It's—it's Cayley. He's there with her; I'm sure he is." He turned away a little from Captain Warner and spoke directly to his father. "I don't know how I know, but it's as if I saw them there together. He has fallen in love with her, I think. I'm quite sure she has with him. I wanted to kill him for that yesterday, but now—" his voice faltered there, but the look in his eyes did not change—the light of a serene, untroubled hope—"He's there with her," he went on, "and with God's help he'll keep her alive until we can get back with the relief."

He said no more, and he clutched the rail tight in his gauntleted hands and gazed out north, across the ice. To be continued.

PREMIER ONCE A STRIKE ADVISER

Yet Briand's Tactics Ended France's Railway Tieup.

DROPS SOCIALIST DOCTRINE.

Cabinet Leader Who Resigned After Scoring Victory For His Course Invoked Patriotism of Employees by Calling Them to the Colors and Making Them Work Against Themselves.

The resignation of Aristide Briand, French premier, and his entire cabinet recalls a curious coincidence. The resignation was caused ostensibly by the attacks made upon the prime minister because of his crippling the railway strikers by summoning to the colors those employees who were army reservists and compelling them to operate the trains through their patriotic allegiance.

Yet this same premier who invoked patriotism to end the huge walkout had but a few years before advocated a wholesale labor strike and been among the forefront of France's Socialists.

Reorganization Is Likely.

As Briand scored a victory in the chamber of deputies when the government's strike action was considered, so it is predicted that the resignation of the entire cabinet was due chiefly to a desire to shake out some undesirable members and that Briand would soon be found forming a new official family.

The appeal to patriotism, which was Briand's chief weapon in his defense of the government's strike tactics, won him the victory, but it necessitated the enunciation of some strong doctrines.

For instance, Briand declared the strike was a plot to ruin France and amid intense excitement said that if the laws had not given the government the means of keeping the country master of its railways and national defenses it would not have hesitated to have recourse to illegality. He afterward modified this statement by saying that what he meant was that in grave hours of national peril exceptional measures were justified.

Briand, though once a Socialist and labor man, apparently modified his former radical views when he took the premiership.

Briand Brilliant Scholar.

Briand was minister of justice and public worship in the Clemenceau cabinet. He is a brilliant scholar and orator, an avowed Socialist and was the author of the final chapters of the separation law. On July 22, 1909, President Fallieres invited him to reconstruct the Clemenceau cabinet, and the next day he announced the ministry which recently resigned. It contained six of the members of the Clemenceau cabinet.

Briand, in addition to the premiership, retained his portfolio of minister of justice and public worship. At this time Briand was described by some as a reformed Socialist because he had modified some of his former extreme doctrines. He was generally admired for his handling of the long campaign between the state and the church.

SPECIAL VANS FOR BIG HATS.

Austrian Government Gallantly Protects Feminine Fashions.

So gallantly disposed is the Austrian government toward its fairer subjects that the postal authorities have decided to devote special parcel delivery vans to the transport of the extremely large hats which are the mode in Austria just now.

Many complaints were received from their customers by the leading millinery firms of Vienna that these costly creations reached their destination in the form of an unrecognizable tangle of velvet and feathers.

Representations were thereupon made to the postoffice, with the result that special "hat collecting vans" are to be brought into service in Vienna.

THE BEEF TRUST SUIT DISSOLVED

Uncle Sam Taking No Chances On Immunity Bath.

TO STAND ON CRIMINAL CASE

Believing That Subpoenae of the Ten Packers Indicted on Criminal Charge to Testify in the Civil Case Might Result in Immunizing Them From Further Prosecution, Government Has Dismissed Dissolution Suit.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Without warning to the packers, the suit of the United States government in the federal court to dissolve the National Packing company was suddenly dismissed yesterday afternoon, in order to avoid giving the ten defendants in the criminal beef trust case an immunity bath. It is said that the ten packers, headed by J. Ogden Armour, who are defendants in the criminal case, had been summoned as witnesses on behalf of other packers in the case. J. H. Wilkerson, assistant district attorney, feared this was a ruse to give the ten packers the chance to plead, perhaps successfully, that they had been granted immunity by their testimony in the civil case. Mr. Wilkerson said that the government had decided to stand on the criminal case and let the other go.

DOOR WAS LOCKED

And Babes Were Unable to Escape the Fire Which Destroyed Home.

Glasgow, Ky., Dec. 28.—After Mrs. Robert Boles of Wisdom, Ky., near here, had locked her three children in her home and gone on an errand, the house caught fire and the children perished. Returning, Mrs. Boles found the house in ruins. The charred bodies of the three little ones were found in a corner. It was evident that they had made every possible effort to escape. Mrs. Boles said she carefully covered the fire in the stove before she left home, and the origin of the fatal blaze is a mystery.

Acetylene Gas Let Go.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Dec. 28.—At Warwick, the four young children of Ovide Barit were burned to death following an explosion of an acetylene gas apparatus in the house. The four children were sleeping in the upper part of the house, and the father and mother, who occupied a bedroom down stairs, were severely burned while endeavoring to rescue their children. The building took fire and the charred bodies of the children were later found in the ruins.

Little Girls Burned to Death.

Columbus, O., Dec. 28.—Myrtle Sheets, aged four, and Margaret Sheets, aged two, were found burned to death by their mother when she returned to her home from an errand to a grocery. She left the children playing with their Christmas presents, and they were found clasped in each other's arms with all their clothing burned. It is supposed one of them got too near the open gas fire and her dress caught from the flame.

WIFE BRINGS CHARGES

Mrs. Clapp Accuses Husband of Assault With Intent to Kill.

Philadelphia, Dec. 28.—As he left St. Mary's hospital yesterday, Herbert Mason Clapp, millionaire clubman, who was shot in a quarrel with his wife on Dec. 3, was arrested and taken before a magistrate. The charges, preferred by Mrs. Clapp, were assault and battery with intent to kill, desertion and non-support. Clapp was held in bail for a further hearing.

Mrs. Clapp is now under bail on the charge of shooting her husband, the charge which she denies, declaring that he drew the revolver, and when she tried to take it from him it was accidentally discharged.

THE INDIANA Y. M. C. A. SHOWS GREAT GAINS

Every Department of Endeavor On the Increase.

Indianapolis, Dec. 28.—Remarkable growth was attained by the Y. M. C. A. throughout the state for the year ended Oct. 31, as shown by reports read at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. state executive committee. It was reported that buildings and other real estate in Indiana owned by the association are valued at $1,329,780; railroad buildings, $71,500. Building funds in six fields total $50,018; an endowment fund, $11,481; furniture and fixtures, $146,990, while $226,000 has been assured for work in Gary. In the year 13,066 members were enrolled, as compared with 9,062 five years ago. A total attendance of 237,809 at all religious meetings was reported.

The committee was especially pleased with the financial situation. Property values, pledges and building and endowment funds make a total of $1,834,769. This is more than three times the total of 1905. In almost every line, and generally throughout Indiana, the figures show substantial growth.

REVOLUTION DUE

Honduras Fixing For Their Semi-Annual Disturbance.

New Orleans, Dec. 28.—Manuel Bonilla, former president of Honduras, who recently left New Orleans accompanied by General Lee Christmas, for an unknown point in Central America, is said to have set Sunday morning, Jan. 1, as the date for a general uprising against the government rule of President Miguel R. Davila. Generals Bonilla and Christmas left New Orleans simultaneously with the departure of the Hornet, but they did not go on that vessel. The ship is said to have gone directly to Cape Gracias, for which point she cleared.

Dispatches from various points in Honduras give the information that the revolutionary movement is expected at any time and that the coast cities and many of those in the interior have been fortified and garrisoned by President Davila. According to dispatches the gunboat Tumbala, the sole naval force of the Honduran government on the Atlantic coast, is in a sinking condition from lack of care, and strenuous efforts are being put forth to keep her afloat.

General Bonilla is expected to reach some Central American port, likely Cape Gracias, Nicaragua, within a day or so, when, according to the plans as announced, a quick assault can be made against one of the principal Atlantic ports of Honduras, and a foothold can be gotten for the attacking armies.

PARTY PLEDGES CAUSE CONCERN

Indiana Democrats Preparing to Fulfill Promises.

IN HANDS OF A COMMITTEE

Upon This Committee of Representative Members of Both Houses Develops the Task of Seeing That Each Platform Pledge Is Properly Brought Before the Legislature in the Form of a Bill.

Indianapolis, Dec. 28.—Final arrangements will be made at a joint meeting of the committees appointed by the Democratic senators and representatives, to be held next Monday afternoon, for introduction in the legislature of bills covering all of the promises made in the Democratic state platform. W. W. Spencer of Indianapolis, chairman of the committee, said it is not the province of this committee to prepare any bills on the platform subjects for introduction in the legislature. All the committee is to do is to see to it that someone brings each platform pledge before the legislature in the form of a bill. He says any representative "is welcome to introduce his own bill" on any of the platform subjects and that there is no restriction on anyone in that direction.

Then, after the bills have been introduced, the committee will look them over and pick out the ones which in the opinion of the committee come nearest to covering the subjects in accordance with the platform declarations. The committee will then recommend that the Democratic members support that bill.

The senate Democrats appointed a similar committee to look after platform bills in the senate, and at the meeting next Monday the house committee and the senate committee will work together and agree on the introduction of the bills either in the senate or the house, in order that there may not be any conflict.

'Twould Be Unconstitutional.

Mr. Spencer says that the committee found on investigation of the subject that it would be impossible to frame a compulsory arbitration law that would be constitutional. One of the platform measures proposed was on this subject, and was intended to require both sides to submit to arbitration all disputes between capital and labor. The committee found that the constitution of the state of Indiana does not permit the legislature to grant judicial powers to anybody for the determination of such matters unless the parties themselves agree first to abide by the decision of the tribunal. It is likely, therefore, that no bill will be introduced along this line. On the other platform propositions, however, bills will be introduced.

The liquor problem is causing the committee some worry. Mr. Spencer says it is a question of whether the liquor question should be met with a bill which would repeal the county local option law and substitute for it a law making the city, the township and the township outside the city the units of local option, or whether the present county option law should be amended merely by changing the unit from county option to city, township and township outside of city. He says it may be done either way, but the committee has not as yet made up its mind which plan would more nearly comply with the state platform pledge for a change in the unit. This is another matter that will be taken up with the senate committee next Monday.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED

Wealthy Woman Pleaded Guilty to Manslaughter at Fort Wayne.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Rose Seidel Tresselt entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter in Judge O'Rourke's court and received a suspended sentence of two to fourteen years. Mrs. Tresselt recently inherited several hundred thousand dollars.

The child ran out of her home and across the street in front of Mrs. Tresselt's car, which was going down grade on an asphalt street thirty miles an hour. Death was instantaneous. The present proceeding ends both the criminal and the civil suit for damages.

PURDUE SHORT COURSE TO OPEN

Instruction in Animal Husbandry Will

Be Feature at This Year's Meeting, Which Begins Jan. 9.

NEW LIVE STOCK PAVALION

Poultry Work, For The First Time, Will be Given a Week's Lecture Period.

The instruction in Animal Husbandry at the Purdue Short Course for farmers to be held at Lafayette, January 9-14, 1911 will be superior to anything before attempted due to the fact that the facilities for giving concrete instruction to a large number of people have been greatly improved in many respects during the past year. Lectures and demonstrations together with instruction in judging and scoring in all classes of live stock will be given. The University has for use in this work some of the finest individual animals in the world, among them being prize winning steers and champion pen of Berkshire Barrows, shown by the College at the International recently closed at Chicago. The college herd of pure breeding cattle; the seventy head of steers; and the one hundred and forty head of sheep on the Purdue Farm will afford ample material for judging work. Through the courtesy of J. Crouch and Son, of Lafayette, the farmers will have an opportunity to judge ideal types of Belgian, Percheron, and Shire Stallions. For the first time the farmers student will be given instruction in sheep judging and husbandry. Breeding and fat classes will be judged and proper methods of judging will be demonstrated. Lectures will be given on the following subjects: Forage crop for swine; Feeding cattle; Sheep Husbandry; Prevention of hog cholera; types of horses; the Relation of live stock to the welfare of the State. Cattle and swine carcass demonstration; Post mortem and cholera vaccination demonstration will be full of instruction to all present. A baby beef, prime steer short fed steer, butcher steer, and an inferior steer will be slaughtered and cuts of meat from each shown. Carcasses of different hogs will also be on exhibition. All the work will be given in the warmth, light and comfort of the spacious New Live Stock Pavilion, which has a capacity of 100 persons.

The Poultry work to be given for the first time, will consist in a full weeks instruction on the subjects of housing, feeding, breeding, diseases, incubation, brooding, marketing, and management. Each day an hour will be spent in practical laboratory or demonstration work. The course should be of benefit to both farmer and fancier, because full discussion will be allowed on all problems of poultry husbandry. It is hoped that Mr. H. C. Pierce, of the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry formerly in charge of Poultry at Ames, Ia., Agricultural College will give one or more lectures and demonstrations on Marketing Eggs, and Killing, dressing, and marketing Poultry.

PECOS VALLEY EXCURSION

From Indiana to the Pecos Valley

"From Better to Best"

TUESDAY, JANUARY 3d, 1911

The first excursion of the New Year. Join the Rush County and Indiana delegation in Roswell, Pecos Valley, N. M. Leave this severe climate during our worst winter season when snow, sleet, rain, slush and mud prevail and colds, lagrippe, rheumatism, pneumonia and tuberculosis abound. Come with me to a land of cloudless sky and perpetual sunshine. Come and I will show you a valley of wondrous fertility, a valley of flowing wells, wonderful apple orchards, marvelous alfalfa crops and famous truck gardens. Forty people attended the First Annual Banquet of the Roswell Rush County Society at Roswell, December 12th, 1910. They have all gone there on my excursions. "AND THEY LIKE IT." We will have the best of accommodations for the next personally conducted party on January 3d, 1911. A Special tourist car will be on the track either at Rushville or Indianapolis. Rate for round trip from Rushville, $38.10 good for 25 days. Write me or telephone me as soon as you can so that I can reserve room for you. Come join the crowd and be happy.
